

D&E Entertainment Selected to Theatrically Distribute and Market Rob Zombie's Animated Film 'The Haunted World of El Superbeasto'

Presenting in Digital Cinemas

Hollywood, CA (September 1, 2009) - Through their partnership with Starz and Spectacle Entertainment/Front Line Management, D&E Entertainment, the leader in theatrical distribution and marketing of Alternative Content, will be distributing and marketing the theatrical premiere of writer/director Rob Zombie's animated classic "The Haunted World of El Superbeasto." The film will be premiered in over 68 cinemas in the US on September 12.

D&E's digital cinema presentation captures the spectacular animation, giving fans the best seat in the house. Presented in HD in digital cinemas, the highest quality in cinemas today- "The Haunted World of El Superbeasto" on the big screen will be the ultimate experience for the senses.

This film has been a project that Rob Zombie has worked hard on for years, for which he's very pleased to have fans see on the big screen. "Next to Sergei Eisenstein's Battleship Potemkin I believe that El Superbeasto may be one of the most important moments in film history" Zombie states, "A superhero monster sex comedy/musical is exactly what the world has been screaming for... and now they have it."

D&E Entertainment partners Evan Saxon and Doug Kluthe stated, "Working on this project with Rob Zombie, Andy Gould's team at Spectacle Entertainment, and Starz has been a pleasure. This is a great example of the benefits D&E provides to our clients and theatre partners, the opportunity to have a theatrical campaign for the fans. We will give Rob Zombie's animated film the absolute best presentation possible. At D&E Entertainment, we understand the vision of our artists and content owners, and meld this with our network of fantastic theatre partners."
